How to Persuade People to Do What You Want!

STEP #1 - How to Get Clarity on Your Individual Goals

Goal Brainstorming - Create Goals for Every Area of Your Life:

Finances, Career, Relationships, Recreation, Health, Personal growth

Write down all the things you want to achieve during your life

Include those things in your life that cause you to suffer by converting each one into its opposite

Cross off any that don't feel particularly important to you

Repeat this process for each area of your life

How to Persuade People to Do What You Want!

STEP #2 - Discover Your BIG Why for each of Your Goals

Here is a process chart to clarify the exercise:

Write down your goal, and add the words “so that”

After “so that” write out your reason why

Repeat this “so that” process until you find your “Big Why”

RESULT: You should now have great clarity on worthwhile, meaningful goals and avoid wasting time and energy on goals that may end up being dissatisfying, unfulfilling or that just enable you to avoid things you need to change.

STEP #3 – Group Your Goals with Deadlines

Group Your Goals:

- Short-Term Goals: the next 3 months.
- Medium Term Goals: within 1 year.
- Long-Term Goals: the next 5 - 10years.

Give each goal a deadline of a specific date – your subconscious mind needs specifics to work on.

STEP #4 – Overcome Limiting Beliefs Holding You Back

Uncover:

Read this sentence aloud:

"I can't become / achieve _____ because....."

Quickly write out a single reason why it's not possible for you

Repeat above 2 steps until you have uncovered 10 limiting beliefs

Score each belief 1-10: stronger the feeling the higher the score

Select the 4 limiting beliefs with the highest scores

Overcome:

Slowly write out as many reasons as possible, that counteract each of these 4 limiting beliefs using this sentence:

"I CAN become / achieve _____ because....."

Select the single most empowering reason that counteracts each one of your 4 limiting beliefs

Convert each of these empowering reasons into separate affirmations and repeat them daily, while triggering your Goal Anchor

STEP #5 – Create a Goal Anchor

Creating Your Anchor is Easy!

- 1: Recall Times in Your Past when you felt strong positive emotions - Deep gratitude, happiness, or a time when anything seemed possible to you. "10 out of 10" experiences.
- 2: Choose One with Strongest Positive Emotions.
- 3: Focus on That Experience for a Few Minutes - reliving it, in as much detail as you can - Allow the feelings of gratitude, joy, fulfilment, or of anything being possible for you to build very strongly within you.
- 4: Set Your Anchor - When you are overflowing with positive emotions, touch the thumb and first finger of your right hand together and squeeze them together gently. You have now "set" your Anchor.

STEP #6 – Create Highly Charged Goals

Desires:

- Our Desires Can Be Creative or Destructive.
- Desire is the Creative Force of the Universe.
- Inject Strong Desire Into Your Goals – powerful.

How to Create Highly Charged Goals:

Condense Your List of Goals – group goals that can support each other. Each condensed goal should include at least one Powerful Motivating Factor (PMF).

STEP #7 – Convert Your Goals into Affirmations

Affirmations Should:

- Be in the Present Tense.
- Be Positive.
- Be Personal – I am.
- Be Specific – may include a time reference.
- Include a Feeling Word – such as grateful.
- Include an Action Word – learning, enjoying etc.
- Be Concise – not too wordy.

Repeat affirmations every morning and evening with emotion, while visualising what it will be like when your goal is achieved.

Remember to Use Your Goal Anchor!!!

My Own Experiences of Persuasion

When I Was Young:

- When I developed greater persuasiveness my first business took off.

I Did This By:

- Learning to Listen and Communicate My Ideas With Excitement.
- Giving a Voice to All Our Staff – enabling them to feel heard.
- Allowing Staff and Clients to Feel Valued and Appreciated.
- Helping Employees Feel They Were Part of Something Important.
- Enabling Each Employee to Discover Their Own Resourcefulness
- by not immediately jumping in to fix every problem for them.
- Getting Others to "buy into" My Vision.

High Performance Coaching – Persuasion Questions

Think of an area in your personal or professional life where you are trying to persuade someone to change.

1. What Has Been Working for You in This Process?
2. What Doesn't Seem to Be Working?
3. Do You Feel You Have Strong Persuasive Skills? If So, What Makes You Good at it and Where Can You Apply it More to Improve Your Life? If Not, What Causes You to Believe You Are Not Good at it? What Might You Improve?
4. If You Could Persuade More People to Support Your Dreams, What Would You Ask for?

How to Persuade People to Do What You Want!

High Performance Coaching – The Persuasion Formula

This is a 3-part formula for thinking through any situation in which persuasion will be critical: mediations, negotiations, requests of your family, and more:

1. Acknowledgement: The foundation for all persuasion rests on our ability to acknowledge others, to explicitly share our understanding of and appreciation for their realities. We must acknowledge other people's challenges and struggles, and their successes, before attempting to make a request of them.

2. Ambition: Next, we must also stoke their Ambition for a better future. As we do that, we can gain greater persuasion by sharing explicitly how their actions can bring them great intrinsic reward (personal meaning, passion, and enjoyment) and extrinsic reward (social recognition, or rewards like status, money, power, awards, social popularity or appreciation).

3. Affect: Finally, we must overlay to all this communication a high dose of Affect, or emotion. We have to share stories or utilise our time in order to make people feel like wanting to do something on an emotional level.

High Performance Coaching – The Persuasion Formula

SENTENCE COMPLETION: Use the following sentences to think about this framework. You can apply it to yourself or to someone you are trying to influence.

An area of life I need to persuade people better is.....

Now think of someone specific who you want to persuade:

In my next situation of persuasion, the things I'd have to say to them to Acknowledge Them would be things like.....

In my next situation of persuasion, the things I'd have to say to them to Stoke Their Ambition would be things like.....

In my next situation of persuasion, the things I'd have to say to them to Gain More Affect (Emotion) from them would be things like.....

High Performance Coaching – Persuasion Planning #1

Persuading is influencing others to believe and/or commit to something.

What do you want others to believe or commit to? You must think through persuasion attempts in advance, otherwise your results may be disappointing!

The following questions will help you plan your next persuasion situation, whether it's a customer, spouse, friend or colleague.

1. The belief or action I am trying to influence with this person is.....
2. The reason I want to influence them to believe/commit to this is.....
3. The ways I can bring up this suggestion to them and frame it positively so they see it benefits us both are.....
4. The future benefits this person will personally experience for adopting my suggestion are.....

5. The intrinsic and extrinsic rewards that would motivate this person to do what I suggest are.....

6. The daily tangible impacts they would feel/sense if they were to do what I'm suggesting would be.....

[think about their daily life – what would really change and be better? Paint the picture vividly]

7. The benefits that would happen for others if this person were to do what I suggest are.....

[does them believing/doing what you suggest benefit other people too, if so how?]

8. The consequences this person would experience for not doing what I suggest are.....
[be detailed here, again painting a picture of their daily reality and ultimate outcome that would not be good for them]
9. The deadline I can make real and share with this person is.....and the reason they will want to hit that deadline is.....
